

This is one of my favorite poems from my first semester teaching as a poet teacher. Meg Rich is a fifth grade student at Del Mar Heights School. This poem is wonderful and shows her sensitivity to the world around her. Andres Monreal

CRYSTAL TRAMPOLINE

A beautiful night
on the beach
walking with my mom
suddenly
dolphins jumping out of the water on a crystal trampoline ocean clear blue
dolphins
see me then
flap their fins
like a birds wing
I wave back
the most beautiful
thing I've ever seen
dolphins
jumping on a crystal
trampoline
Instantly
open my eyes to find
it was all a dream
Then
out on my roof deck
the most beautiful thing I've ever seen
dolphins!!!
Jumping on a crystal
trampoline
